

HAZRAT PIIR-O-MURSHID SUFI INAYAT KHAN (Baroda, 5th July 1882–Delhi, 5th February 1927) was a mystic and a musician who was sought after by the great courts of India. In Hyderabad he received bayat from Shaikh Syed Abu Hashim Madani of the Chishtia lineage, and in 1910, heeding the prophetic advice of his Murshid, he sailed with his brothers to the West. There, travelling through America and Europe, he spent the rest of his life spreading the universal message of love for the Divine ideal, service to one's fellowman, and respect for the unity of religious ideals. In 1926 he returned to India, and passed away in Tilak Lodge, Delhi, on February 5th, 1927.

THE DARGAH OF HAZRAT SUFI INAYAT KHAN is offered as a place of prayer and meditation for all people, without regard to religion, creed, gender, caste, class, nation or race.

Riding on the horse of hope,
Holding in my hand the rein of courage,
Clad in the armor of patience,
And the helmet of endurance on my head,
I started on my journey to the land of love.
